All-Breed Vision Clinics

Dr Jeff Studer DVM DACVO Ophthalmology Specialist, Board Certified in Veterinary Ophthalmology

Dr Jeff Studer decided to become a veterinarian while cleaning kennels for his family's veterinarian. He was drawn to ophthalmology because the eye is often a clinical indicator for systemic disease, allowing him to consult and work with other specialties. Additionally, he loves that ophthalmology incorporates both medicine and surgery. Dr. Studer is driven every day by the desire and ability to help blind pets see again. His special interests include cataract, corneal and eyelid surgeries.
